Rice-Larpenteur VISION PLAN

The Rice-Larpenteur Gateway Area will be a safe, engaging, and inviting neighborhood center that includes common spaces, a high-quality pedestrian environment and robust reinvestment for the diverse people of the surrounding communities to live, conduct business, and play together.

The southeast area of Roseville continues to be a priority for the city. In 2016, the city identified strategic initiatives for the area. Roseville partnered with Ramsey County and the cities of St. Paul and Maplewood to explore what revitalization might look like for the area and how to create opportunities for the community to become involved now and invested in the area's future.

A Gateway Area Planning Committee comprised of staff and elected officials, along with a Citizens Advisory Group comprised of residents, property/business owners and community advocates, met regularly in 2017 and 2018. They created the Rice-Larpenteur Vision Plan, which was approved by each of the cities and endorsed by Ramsey County in 2018. The Vision Plan includes a strategy to manage future growth of the Rice-Larpenteur Gateway Area to improve connectivity and accessibility, and to create an attractive destination with strong businesses and vibrant neighborhoods.

In March 2019, the Gateway Area Planning Committee hired the Saint Paul Area Chamber of Commerce to staff the Rice-Larpenteur Gateway Alliance and manage the Rice-Larpenteur Vision Plan.

Don't get Conned – Identify Theft and Fraud

Almost on a daily basis Roseville police receive calls from residents or family members wondering if they've been conned out of their hard-earned money. Unscrupulous people claiming to be from the IRS, FBI or your bank, mortgage or credit card company will try to trick you into giving up personal information.

The police want to help protect you from becoming a victim of identity theft and fraud. Experts from the police department invite you to an identity theft prevention presentation. They will share information about what you can do to prevent becoming a victim and share examples of fraud and identity theft scams that have happened here in Roseville. They will also give you information about what to do if you suspect your identity has been stolen.

Following the discussion, officers invite you to join them for a free cup of coffee and a chat.

Upcoming City Council Meetings: May 6, 13, 20 • June 3, 17

Know the Code

As summer approaches, yardwork begins. We offer a few reminders to help maintain your property.

Grass - A messy, overgrown yard can drive down neighborhood appeal and property values. Grass must be cut before it reaches eight inches in height.

Invasive and noxious weeds – Noxious weeds are harmful to human and animal health. They choke out native species and destroy native habitat. Remove noxious weeds before they spread. Common noxious weeds found in Roseville include thistles, buckthorn, garlic mustard, purple loosestrife and wild parsnip. Visit www.mda.state.mn.us or call 651-201-6000 for information about identifying or removing noxious weeds.

Brush piles – City Code prohibits brush piles or other debris in the yard. They can become a home for rodents and other pests. Brush can be taken to a Ramsey County yard waste site for free. For locations and hours, visit RamseyRecycles.com/yardwaste or call their 24/7 hotline at 651-633-EASY (3279). Your garbage hauler will also pick up brush, but they may charge a fee. Yard waste cannot be burned in a backyard fire.

Compost piles – Composting can help reduce waste. However, unless properly secured, compost piles can become a food source for wildlife. Composting areas must be in the backyard, at least five feet from the property line and 20 feet from a home. They may not exceed five feet in length, width or height.

Native grasses, rain gardens – Native grasses and rain gardens offer low maintenance alternatives to keeping a yard. However, they cannot be placed in the city Right of Way or cause sight issues for pedestrians or vehicles. Maintain a five-foot setback from the property line.

Contact the code compliance office at 651-792-7014 or NEP@cityofroseville.com if you have questions.

Garlic mustard is a noxious weed that crowds out native plants

Roseville Supports Homeownership

Homeownership is part of the American dream. People who own their own home generally accumulate greater wealth. Homeownership is also good for the economy, and it provides social benefits for homeowners, including better health outcomes, lower crime rates, children doing better in school and more involvement in the community.

One of the city's priorities is to meet the housing needs for all residents. Roseville offers several programs to encourage homeownership and to help homeowners protect their investment.

First-time Homebuyer Loans

The City of Roseville is partnering with Minnesota Housing to provide affordable mortgages to eligible, first-time homebuyers through the Start Up loan program.

Minnesota Housing's loans are designed to help families achieve homeownership. Start Up offers fixed interest rates, down payments and closing cost loans up to $15,000 for eligible first-time homebuyers. Buyers can purchase homes in Roseville that cost up to $328,200.

First-time buyers can visit www.mnhousing.gov to find approved lenders, current interest rates and program eligibility information.

Minnesota Housing also offers purchase, refinance and home improvement loans and financing for affordable rental housing. Contact Minnesota Housing at 651-296-8215 or email mnhousing.solution@state.mn.us if you have questions.

Loans to Rehab Homes

Ramsey County is offering no interest loans to help low and moderate-income residents make repairs to their homes.

Income-eligible residents can apply for home improvement deferred payment loans of up to $18,000 to pay for improvements that make the home more livable, more energy efficient or more accessible for disabled persons.

The two-tiered program is available to homeowners in suburban Ramsey County. For low-income homeowners, the loan is forgiven after living 10 years in the home. For moderate-income homeowners, the loan must be repaid in full when the homeowner refinances, sells, transfers interest or moves from the property. In both cases, there is no interest and no monthly payment.

Funds for this program are available on a first-come, first-served basis. The program is administered the City of St. Paul. For more information, call 651-266-6564.

Ice dams indicate air leaks and heat loss that may lead to serious damage. With the record-breaking snowfall in February leaving homes with huge ice dams, the city expects to see an uptick in roof repairs and ventilation and insulation projects. Contact CEE for a free energy audit and information about how to prevent ice dams.

Lending Center at Center for Energy and Environment (CEE)

Before tackling home repairs or a remodeling project, the city encourages homeowners to contact CEE. They offer free, comprehensive housing services to homeowners, including free energy audits. The Lending Center:

- Provides information and assistance in applying for home loan financing, including low interest loans
- Identifies home improvement and repair projects, and provides advice on construction, building codes and permits
- Conducts site visits and written scope of work
- Reviews contractor bids, proposals and estimates
- Provides low-interest financing for qualified home improvement projects

Neighborhood Enhancement Program

Roseville is kicking off another year of the Neighborhood Enhancement Program (NEP), the city's proactive approach to inspecting private property. Inspectors look for code violations and work with property owners to make repairs when they are small and before they become more costly to repair.

In 2013, the program expanded to include multi-family, commercial and industrial properties. Over the years, the city has refined the inspection process. This year, staff will visit all Roseville properties south of County Road B.

To learn more about NEP visit www.cityofroseville.com/NEP or call 651-792-7014.

Natural Resources Renewal

Be a part of our exciting eco-restoration efforts in our city. Join the Natural Resources Renewal team on the third Saturday of each month to work on restoration projects in Roseville's parks.

Events begin with an update of the city-wide efforts followed by tackling the day's task. Projects include removing buckthorn and garlic mustard, planting native plants, grasses and trees, restoring shoreline, building bee friendly habitat, collecting seeds and other projects.

Relief Coming for C2, Lydia

The big three-year 35W project may be grabbing the metro headlines, but two smaller local projects promise to bring some needed relief in Roseville. Public Works will be adding additional left turn lanes to both County Road C2 and Lydia Ave. at Snelling Ave. in 2019.

The work is aimed at reducing the significant eastbound backups that occur during each evening rush hour caused by the current single left turn lanes.

Each project will include new intersection traffic flow and modified signal lights, with County Road C2 also getting a new median and pavement.

Work on each project will take three to four weeks to complete and will include staged closures during construction. Keep an eye on Roseville's Facebook and Twitter accounts as well as the city's website for additional details as construction information becomes available.

Kids Safety Camp

Kids, join the Roseville Police for a Kids Safety Camp. Learn about pedestrian and bike safety, fire safety, water safety and more while having a ton of fun. Kids will meet police officers and the K9 unit. All kids will receive a t-shirt.

City Solar Project Goes Live

Roseville's campus solar project is live. The city flipped the switch in April on its new solar arrays, which are now feeding clean energy to the electrical grid and offsetting Roseville's electrical power costs.

The panels were delivered in mid-January and installed on roofs atop City Hall, the city's maintenance facility, and the fire station. It is estimated that the system will offset approximately 141 tons of greenhouse gas emissions annually.

Roseville will explore the feasibility of additional solar capacity to other city buildings throughout 2019.

Pet Rescue

Imagine the worst. Your house is on fire. You've made it out safely, but your dog or cat is still in the home. If firefighters know a pet is in the home, and if it's safe to do so, they will try to rescue it.

Roseville Fire has three Basic Animal Rescue Training (BART) kits. Kits are stocked with first aid supplies specially designed for dogs and cats. They include masks to provide oxygen and CPR equipment. The kits also include supplies for the Fire Department to help evacuate and track pets if the need arises after a large scale emergency.

The equipment functions similarly to human medical equipment. Firefighters receive training that helps to assure this specialized equipment is used properly. All of the equipment and training has been funded by donations from two Roseville residents.

The city is fortunate that we have not had to use the equipment in Roseville. However, it has been used to provide CPR to animals that have been rescued from house fires when responding to fires in mutual aid areas.

Police Promote Transparency

Roseville Police have launched a new transparency and data sharing initiative on the City of Roseville website. The webpage at www.cityofroseville.com/police/transparency features a wealth of information about traffic stops, uses of force, misconduct summaries, crime statistics and predatory offender information.

The department's goal of the data sharing is to continue to build trust with the community through transparency and education.

"We need the public's consent to effectively deliver public safety services to the community we serve," said Chief Rick Mathwig, who is in his ninth year as Roseville's head law enforcement officer. "It's difficult to obtain the public's help if they don't know whom the police are helping."

The initiative grew from the positive community reaction to the department's release of Roseville's 2017 traffic stop statistics about a year ago.

RPD began collecting driver information for all traffic stops in January 2017 as part of a voluntary, countywide initiative to provide the public with more context about traffic stops. Traffic stop data collected includes the perceived race and gender of the driver, whether the driver was searched, whether the vehicle was searched, the reason for the stop and whether a warning or citation was issued.

The police focus traffic enforcement on drivers who are most likely to cause a crash - speeding, not stopping for red lights or stop signs, driving while distracted or other behaviors that jeopardize the safety of others. Stopping cars with minor equipment violations is not a priority.

The Use of Force Summary provides information about when officers use force and how use of force is counted in Roseville. The city defines use of force as the application of physical techniques or tactics or chemical agents or weapons to gain compliance.

Although Minnesota does not require police departments to collect or disseminate use of force data, Roseville has been gathering data and using the information to examine its practices for years. Tracking how, when, where and why officers use force is an invaluable tool in working towards the department's goal of minimizing force incidents and injuries while maximizing officer effectiveness in situations where force is unavoidable.

The webpage also includes the department's recently updated policy manual, including the Use of Force Policy. The revised Use of Force Policy emphasizes the importance of de-escalation and protecting the sanctity of every life.

Supporting Roseville Parks

Do you have a favorite park that you'd like to help support? Join a group of dedicated volunteers to help maintain Roseville's award winning park system. We're looking for individuals, businesses and community groups to help keep city parks in tip-top shape through the Adopt-a-Park program.

Adopt-a-Park volunteers plant and maintain flowers in designated areas, help pick up litter and keep an eye on the park, reporting any damage or other problems. The city provides litterbags, plants for flowerbeds, support and resources, as needed, and we post signs recognizing each Adopt-a-Park group.

The following parks are available for sponsors: Autumn Grove, Bruce Russell, Central Park (divided into six sections), Concordia, Mapleview, Materion, Midland Gardens, Owasso Ballfields, Owasso Hills Park and Pioneer Park.

If you or an organization you belong to would like to adopt a park, please contact volunteer coordinator Rachel Boggs at rachel.boggs@cityofroseville.com or 651-792-7028.

Meet Community Development Director Janice Gundlach

The City of Roseville welcomes Community Development Director Janice Gundlach. In her new role, Gundlach manages a staff of 13 and oversees the city's economic development strategies, land use and planning policies, building permits and inspections and code enforcement. Gundlach has more than 15 years of planning and community development experience.

Q: What attracted you to this position with the City of Roseville?

A: Having worked for the City of New Brighton in community and economic development, as well as living there, I've always envied the robust commercial offerings in Roseville. Because Roseville is such a hub of activity, the community and economic development potential was a huge attraction for me professionally.

Q: What experience do you think will be particularly beneficial in helping you succeed in this position?

A: Two things in particular come to mind, those being my familiarity with the area/development community and my management philosophy. I worked for New Brighton for more than 12 years, so I've come to know a lot of developers and brokers who work in the area and have a good understanding of what it takes to get projects done with all the complexities fully developed communities offer. I also prescribe to a management philosophy that focuses heavily on people and collaboration. Roseville's community development staff is very professional and capable and I look forward to working alongside them to continue the high-performing team atmosphere that currently exists.

Q: What are you most looking forward to working on in this new role?

A: While there are many projects I could point to, I think the most exciting project that I'll be working on is the development of the Rice-Larpenteur Gateway Area. This project provides a unique opportunity to engage with Maplewood, St. Paul, Ramsey County and the resident and business owners of the area who are all focused on making the area a safe and engaging neighborhood. (See Rice-Larpenteur article on page 1).

Q: What do you like most about working in local government?

A: I think the most rewarding part of working in local government is when you're able to engage with residents, Commissioners, and City Council members on issues that are aimed at having a positive impact on the community. Working on community and economic development projects also allows you to see months, years, or even decades worth of work come to life whether it be a small home addition, a new office building, or a larger-scale redevelopment effort.

Q: How have the first few weeks gone since starting the job?

A: The first few weeks have been really busy, a little overwhelming at times, but also fun! The staff and City Council have been helpful, warm, and generous with their time in making sure I'm getting settled and developing a support system that will ensure long-term success. While the projects are important, the people and work culture are even more important, and Roseville has shown to be top-notch in both.

Recreation Fires and Backyard Burning

When summer beckons, so does outdoor fun. Neighbors often celebrate with a backyard bbq. We remind you of the safety rules when building a fire.

- Recreational fires may only be used for cooking or entertainment
- Fires cannot be more than three feet in diameter
- Fires cannot last more than four hours
- Fire must be at least 25 feet from any structure (house, shed, garage)
- Only charcoal or logs at least one inch in diameter may be burned
- Fire must be constantly tended by a responsible adult
- A means of extinguishing the fire (garden hose or fire extinguisher) must be present

Treated or painted wood, wood products and building waste cannot be burned in a recreational fire. These can add pollutants to the air. State statute bans burning yard waste and trash. Leaves, twigs and paper can become airborne and spread a fire.

Please be respectful of neighbors. Don't build a fire on a windy day if it blows smoke into a neighbor's yard.

Visit www.cityofroseville.com/firerules or call 651-792-7340 for additional guidelines. If someone is burning something illegally, please call 651-266-7702 to report it.

VOLUNTEER Roseville

Roseville is seeking volunteers:

Run and Roll for the Roses

Set up, organize, greet participants, clean up and other tasks based on your interests and availability. Volunteers needed June 28 and 29.

Rose Parade

Banner carriers at the Rose Parade on Monday, June 24. A great activity for people of all ages, who would like to participate in the parade. Meet at the high school staging area and walk the parade route to City Hall.

Blooming Boulevard

Plant flowers along Lexington Ave. on Saturday, May 18, starting at 9:00 a.m. or help water and weed a section throughout the summer.

Green Team

Help weed, garden and mulch at the arboretum, community orchard and city parks. Flexible schedules to meet your timeframe.

To learn more about these and other opportunities, contact volunteer coordinator Rachel Boggs at rachel.boggs@cityofroseville.com or 651-792-7028 or visit www.cityofroseville.com/volunteeropportunities.

Our favorite
people –
volunteers!

Volunteers enhance our outreach to the community. In this issue, we thank volunteer Afrin Randeria.

Type of volunteering: Afrin volunteers weekly at Harriet Alexander Nature Center and helps with special events hosted by HANC. Afrin also volunteers at City Hall, creating and setting up display cases to commemorate events and activities that are important to the City of Roseville.

Her favorite thing about being a volunteer:

Afrin appreciates the opportunity to meet so many friendly people who enjoy spending time in nature. She also values how much she is learning through volunteering.

Why she volunteers: Afrin said she has the time and she wants to give something to the community. Volunteering has made her realize what a close-knit community Roseville is. Volunteers of all ages and backgrounds come together, making Roseville a better place.

Because she volunteers: Thanks to volunteers like Afrin, the city is able to keep the nature center open six days a week and to offer a variety of free, special events.

Explore Our Trails

Roseville is a pedestrian and bike-friendly community with more than 110 miles of trails, sidewalks and pathways. Visitors can easily connect with parks, shopping areas, restaurants and other community amenities.

Visit www.cityofroseville.com/maps to download a trail map and explore Roseville!

Maintaining our Roads

With snowplowing in the rearview mirror, Roseville streets crews have completed the first of three-to-four annual sweeps and have shifted efforts to maintenance priorities. Chief among those priorities is pavement repair.

The city uses a process called spray patching to conduct street repairs. Crews use a trailer-mounted machine that creates repair material on the fly rather than using premixed asphalt. A fan blows water and debris from the area to be repaired, then a light coat of oil emulsion is applied to help the patch stick. Oil mixed with fine gravel is then sprayed in to fill the hole. Finally, clean gravel is applied over the top to cap the patch, allowing traffic to drive over it immediately.

Crews make repairs in order of priority based on size, location and traffic volume. They appreciate hearing from residents about spots that may have been missed. Complete an online Fix It Form at www.cityofroseville.com/FixItForm or call 651-792-7004 to report a city street in need of repair.

Crews are also busy cleaning the city's storm sewer filtration infrastructure, which involves removing any sediment that may have been deposited in the system over the winter. Another tough and dirty job that is critical to keeping stormwater moving down stream to help avoid flooding.

It may seem a long way away, but we're busy working to make sure everyone in Roseville is counted in the 2020 Census. Not completing the 2020 census form could have a direct impact on local, state and federal policies that affect you.

- Representation – Census data determines the number of seats each state has in the U.S. House of Representatives, as well as districts for state government. Minnesota is at risk of losing a seat in Congress.
- Funding – Census data guides federal spending allocation of approximately $589 billion to local communities every year. If 100 people do not complete the census in Roseville, the city could lose about $1.5 million over 10 years in federal funding for transportation, education, health care and other services.
- Planning – Census data helps federal, state and local governments plan transportation, schools, hospitals, senior centers, emergency services and other needs to best serve changing demographics.
- Businesses – Census data assists businesses in investing in the community including locating businesses, factories and stores, recruiting employees and conducting market research.

Visit mn.gov/admin/demography and look for articles in upcoming newsletters to find out what you can do to help make sure everyone is counted.

Dementia: Caring and Coping

The Roseville Alzheimer's and Dementia Community Action Team (RSVL A/D) continues its Dementia: Caring & Coping series with two presentations at the Ramsey County Library, Roseville, 2180 Hamline Ave.

Energizing Care Partners

Thursday, May 9 • 1:00 to 3:00 p.m.

May's Dementia: Caring and Coping presentation will discuss what respite services are and how they enhance the wellbeing of caregivers and care recipients. Attendees will learn about caregiver burnout and ways to prevent it. Information about respite options that provide engaging activities for people with cognitive impairment and time-out for their family caregivers will be available.

Resources to Remain Independent

Thursday, June 13 • 1:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Discover products and services to help you live your best life. Join RSVL A/D for a resource fair for seniors, caregivers and care recipients. Learn about equipment, resources and activities for seniors, senior caregivers, seniors with special care needs and family members. Exhibitors will discuss access to transportation, meals-on-wheels, social services and support groups.

The resource fair is sponsored by Rsvl A/D, CHAT, Ramsey County Library, City of Roseville, Roseville Area Senior Program, and the Amherst H. Wilder Foundation.

CHAT: Legal Series

Roseville's Community Health Awareness Team (CHAT) is hosting a legal series for healthcare agents, caregivers and care recipients at the Ramsey County Library, Roseville, 2180 Hamline Ave.

Caring for Caregivers

Wednesday, May 22 • 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Caregiving can be stressful and draining. Join CHAT for a seminar designed to help those providing care with options for taking care of themselves in addition to their loved one. Attorney Brenna Galvin's presentation will include information about long-term care options and costs, and advise caregivers how to build a community of support and sustenance.

Residents interested in finding more about CHAT or working with the team can email rosevillechat@gmail.com.

RSVL A/D Soliciting Airport Travel Stories

Members of the Roseville Alzheimer's and Dementia Community Action Team (RSVL A/D) are participating in a group to make Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport dementia-friendly. The group is seeking stories about air travel experiences from Persons With Dementia (PWD) and PWD traveling with one or more care partners. If you are willing to share your good or bad air travel experience, email your story to RosevilleAlzDem@gmail.com or send an email requesting someone to contact you.

Fire Offering CPR Certification

Whether you need to be CPR certified for your profession or simply want to be prepared in an emergency, Roseville firefighters have got your back. They are offering CPR certification courses at the fire station and at your place of business.

Roseville Fire is offering a four-hour course taught by firefighters who are American Heart Association certified instructors. They teach adult, children and infant CPR and basic lifesaving skills, including automated external defibrillator (AED) usage, resuscitation, treating someone who is choking and other skills.

Class size is limited to 12 students to ensure that participants get full attention and time to practice skills. Cost of the course is $80 per person. Additional courses will be added. Visit www.cityofroseville.com/fire for the schedule.

Saturday, May 4 • 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.
2701 Lexington Ave.

Thursday, July 18 • 6:00 to 10:00 p.m.
2701 Lexington Ave.

Firefighters can also provide instruction offsite for larger groups, corporations, service organizations, schools, places of worship and other groups. They provide materials, mannequins and e-card certification once testing has been successfully completed. A fee will be charged to cover additional costs.

Contact Emily Nelson at 651-792-7309 to register for a class or to schedule a training at your organization.

The city will deliver up to six cubic yards of wood chips or compost to homes in Roseville. Delivery charge of $40 per load. Sign up for deliveries at www.cityofroseville.com/deliveries or call 651-792-7004.

Recycling in Roseville

Roseville uses single-sort recycling. Drop all recyclables, including paper products, plastic food and beverage containers, glass bottles and jars, steel and aluminum cans, and milk cartons and juice boxes in your cart. Have the cart at the curb by 7:00 a.m. on your recycling day.

Recycling Tip

At a summer barbecue or picnic, make recycling convenient by putting a clearly labeled recycling bin by the trashcan. Recycle cans, plastic and aluminum foil.

Since plastic cutlery usually can't be recycled, provide reusable utensils for your guests. If you want a zero waste event, put out reusable napkins, plates, cups and cutlery at your next party.

Recycling is picked up on the same day of the week as your trash; however, it is only picked up every other week. A map and recycling schedule is available at www.cityofroseville.com/recycling. Call Eureka Recycling at 612-NO-WASTE (612-669-2783) if you have recycling questions or to report a missed pick-up.

MINNCOR Industries

2420 Long Lake Road

www.minncor.com

MINNCOR Industries provides job skills training to support a successful transition for incarcerated individuals into the community at no cost to taxpayers. The education and employment programs help reduce recidivism – contributing to safer Minnesota communities. The vision is to transform lives for community success and safety.

MINNCOR Industries moved to Roseville in June 2016 when they found a building to lease that would provide the necessary office and warehouse space. MINNCOR employs 33 people in sales, finance, marketing, customer service and program support in the Roseville office, and an additional 95 civilian employees throughout the state. MINNCOR operates out of seven locations including Roseville. The Roseville location runs the transitional employment program and subcontract labor.

MINNCOR Bridge partners with the Department of Corrections to provide three months of employment and work skills training to bridge the gap from corrections to employment by partnering with local businesses needing light assembly, packaging, distribution or warehousing. Following the 90-day Bridge program, released individuals are given help to obtain and retain a job. They are better prepared for employment and becoming productive, taxpaying citizens.

At other locations, incarcerated individuals learn work skills and manufacture furniture, textiles, safety products, license plates and other products. Other services include laundry, printing, warehousing, distribution and subcontract labor.

MINNCOR offers Subcontract Manufacturing

- MINNCOR serves as a subcontract manufacturer to many companies throughout Minnesota. By partnering with MINNCOR, companies benefit from a flexible and skilled workforce, broad capabilities, quality products and services, timely delivery and competitive pricing. Partnering with MINNCOR can allow businesses the opportunity to onshore work and provide more jobs to Minnesotans.
- Generating growth in business is challenging, especially when trying to meet production needs. MINNCOR can adapt their production facilities and staff to help a business meet those challenges by offering workspace and skilled workers to provide support in a variety of trades and services, including but not limited to:
 - Assembly
 - Cabinet Making
 - Packaging
 - Sewing
 - Wood Fabrication
